The Council election process

- If the overall number of nominations we receive across the region is more than the number of places available we will hold a ballot where all organisations based in the region will be able to vote on prospective councillors.
- The information you provide in your Nomination Form will be used in the ballot.
- The election process is designed to refresh membership of the Regional Councils on a regular basis and helps to keep the make-up of the Councils reflective of business in the region.

If you are successful

- If fully elected, your term is for three years starting on 1st January 2023.
- Under our governance rules, you can do two terms as a regional councillor, but will need to nominate yourself again for the second term and go through the full election process.
- You will be reminded to step down from the Council after the six years is complete and you may stand for election again after a one year gap.

Terms and conditions

- We ask that you attend at least three out of four meetings a year. The meetings last for approximately 3 hours, papers will be circulated 1 week in advance.
